Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 2 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate steam and other operating engineering in the District of Columbia", approved February 28, 1887, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 2. That all persons applying for such license shall be examined by a board of examiners composed as follows: Two practical engineers, neither of whom shall be in the employ of the United States or the District of Columbia, to be appointed by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and the boiler inspector for the District of Columbia. Each appointed member shall receive compensation at the rate of $10 per day when actually engaged in the work of the board, such compensation not to exceed $300 per annum. One of the appointed engineers shall be appointed for a term of one year and the others for a term of two years. On the expiration of such appointments, all appointments shall be made for the term of two years except such appointments as may be made for the remainder of unexpired terms. Vacancies caused by death, resignation, or otherwise shall be filled by the Commissioners only for the unexpired terms. Members shall be eligible for reappointment. The Commissioners of the District of Columbia may remove any member of the board for misconduct, incompetency, neglect of duty, or for any other sufficient cause. Said examination shall be conducted in all respects under such rules and regulations as the Commissioners of the District of Columbia shall from time to time provide; and all engines and steam boilers shall be subjected to such tests as the said Commissioners may prescribe."
